"When I Am Laid Below the Hill,"
When I am laid below the hill
I pray you, friend, if you shall not Increase my virtues, if you will,
Nor let my faults be all forgot.
But think of me as with you yet,
The good and bad there is of me—
For truly I shall not forget
In whatsoever place I be.

Nor tears, nor sighs, that I am dead;
But rather that you sing and smile
And tell some favored jest, instead,
As tho' I heard you all the while—
For I shall hear you, and shall see,
And know if you be blithe or sad,
For I shall keep and hold with me
The golden moments we have had.

But you will miss me? Aye, forsooth,
The very thing I'd have you do,
For in that stranger land, in truth,
I also shall be missing you.
Yet life is such a goodly thing,
Blent of the bitter and the sweet,
That I would rather we should cling
To all the gladness we may meet.

When I am laid below the hill,
Go back as tho' I walked with you,
And sing our brave old ballads still,
And laugh as we were wont to do.
Across the little gap that bars
I shall take this fair memory—
And you the other side the stars
Will then still be the friend of me.

GINSBURG-HEINBERG WEDDING LAST NIGHT.

An important event in local Jewish society took place last night when Miss Sadie R. Ginsberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Ginsberg, of Mossy Head, Fla., and Mr. Ben Heinberg, of this city, were united in marriage.

A large wedding reception occurred at the Knights of Columbus hall immediately after the ceremony, when friends of the young couple mingled their general congratulations between the hours of 8 and 12.

The bride has been much admired locally for her unusual beauty, having been a charming member of the bright bevy of young Jewish girls who figure in numerous local events. She has been seen in Pensacola circles considerably before her marriage, and will find a warm welcome among the friends among whom she will now move as one of the brides of the season. The groom is also well known, being a son of Mrs. B. Heinberg.

BISHOP ALLEN ASSISTED.

Pensacola people who know and admire the Rt. Rev. Bishop Allen, of Mobile, who recently officiated at the commencement exercises of the convent of Mercy in this city will read the following from the Register with interest:

The picturesque town of Emmitsburg, in the Blue Ridge mountain of Maryland has been the scene this past week in honor of the centenary of St. Joseph's College, which is the pride and chief ornament of this locality. The hundredth year of the college was also the centennial of the introduction into the United States of the Sisters of Charity, whose central house and administrative establishment are at Emmitsburg.

The celebration lasted four days, and consisted of several impressive ceremonies and brilliant receptions, culminating in the Centennial Commencement on the 17th. From far and near the old scholars, the friends and parents of the pupils and many distinguished men and women flocked to join in the enthusiastic congratulations to the Sisters of Charity for their glorious centenary. The number of visitors taxed the capacity of the town and surrounding country, and Mt. St. Mary's College, the fine institution for young men as well as St. Joseph's, evinced a cordial and welcome hospitality to the throng of visitors. The weather was perfect and the grounds of the institutions as well as the many beautiful mountain roads for walking and driving were scenes of pilgrimages to historic spots, the battlefield of Gettysburg only a short distance and now a handsome public park, being one of the most popular. Numerous automobile parties came from Baltimore and the neighboring towns and Emmitsburg, as quaint and picturesque as a Holland landscape, was quite joyously awakened from its usual placid life.

Mobile was admirably represented at this notable celebration. Rt. Rev. Bishop Allen assisted Cardinal Gibbons in presiding at the commencement exercises of both institutions. On Tuesday morning the bishop ordained eight young men to the priesthood, one of these, Rev. E. B. Kennedy, being intended for the diocese of Mobile and leaving very soon for that city. Rev. P. T. Costello, the diocesan missionary of Mobile, was one of the judges at the oratorical contest at Mt. St. Mary's. Among the visitors most cordially welcomed to her alma mater was Miss Julia Rinsell and her address was the alma mater at their first reception Monday evening was replete with wit and wisdom.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gass were among the interested visitors and were congratulated upon the high places in class work attained by their daughter, Miss Edith, and their niece, Miss Aline Spencer. In the musical numbers during the celebration Miss Olivette Conboy, a pretty Mobile girl, was distinguished for her fine vocal work. Miss Ellen Randolph Ruffin made a high place in class and, in fact, the Mobile representatives in the academy, as well as in the college, were quite a credit to the old Gulf City.

A feature of the celebration that was most enthusiastically received and applauded was the reading on behalf of the alumnae of the centennial ode by M. E. Henry-Ruffin, T. U. D., at the reception given to His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons. Mrs. Ruffin read her poem with telling emphasis. It is pleasant to note that on the following day at the most brilliant commencement ever held at this venerable institution the highest honors of the college, with several special medals and distinctions, were won by a Mobile young lady, Miss Mary Henry-Ruffin. Besides leading the baccalaureate class and gaining the highest rank in the college as a bachelor of arts, Miss Mary Ruffin read an original poem as a tribute from the class of 1909. The poem was most effectively read and when the immense audience, which quite overflowed the hall out into the corridors and even the grounds, understood that the little Mobile girl with the fine college record was the daughter of the distinguished alumna, Dr. Ruffin, whose centennial song was the leading musical number of the programme, it created quite an interest and enthusiasm. A pause in the programme was caused by the cardinal calling Mrs. Ruffin to him and saying he hardly knew which one to congratulate, the mother or the daughter. Mrs. Ruffin happily replied that both were honored to give their poems in the presence of his eminence.

Philadelphia's Premier Beauty.

This young lady the exquisite beauty of whose complexion has aroused the greatest admiration amongst the members of Philadelphia's fashionable younger set, recently confided to a few girl friends the secret of her extraordinary facial loveliness. The secret could not remain one long, and gossip in society circles tells us that this young woman had been greatly annoyed by many dark brown freckles, which obstinately defied removal until she became a user of Nadinola Facial Cream. With its aid, however, she not only quickly and easily banished these unsightly blemishes, but was also rejoiced to find her skin left in every way more beautiful than before—healthy, clear, soft and velvety, with all the freshness and exquisite loveliness of a perfect complexion. Nadinola Cream is sold in every high-class drug store, 50c, and $1 the package.

The Baltimore papers make special note of the beautiful scene presented by the grouping of the college girls in their white gowns, the seniors and juniors in caps and gowns, while the central figures were the venerable cardinal in his scarlet robe, Bishop Allen in his episcopal purple and Mrs. Ruffin in her doctor's gown. St. Joseph's College was founded in 1809 by Mother Seton, the daughter of Victor Bayley of New York and the widow of William Seton. She was related to the Roosevelt family and is an ancestor of our late president.

Mother Seton was a type in the noblest sense of a "new woman" of a century ago, being a lady of refinement, culture and the best social environment and coming in her widowhood, to the mountain wilderness of Maryland and establishing one of the first institutions for the higher education of women in the United States.

BEAUTY'S DAY BOOK.
There is nothing like laying out a plan for the day's beautifying, for if one thinks that, at such an hour, the eyes must be attended to, and at such another hour the nose must be looked after, and so on down to bedtime, there are bound to be good results.
For beauty's sake, as well as health's, absolute regularity of hour is necessary for meals, and such persons as are in delicate health should take a glass of milk or a raw egg every two hours. This between-time feeding does an enormous lot for looks as well as health, and besides adding to flesh elsewhere, an undeveloped bust is much improved by such a diet. Raw eggs are also hardening to the flesh, which is a beauty point greatly to be desired.
Also, for beauty's sake, try and wake up in the morning quietly, and lie for some moments in bed for the precious stretching and yawning which is so good for nerves and muscles. More unstrung bodies than the world reckons on come from the lack of a pleasant morning waking and hustling out of bed before the mind is fortified for the day's doings.
Open the eyes gradually and never upon a direct or glaring light; and while lying in bed pass fifteen min-

KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.
Or Your Hair Will Fall Out Till You Become Bald.
Modern science has discovered that dandruff is caused by a germ that digs up the scalp in scales, as it burrows down to the roots of the hair, where it destroys the hair's vitality, causing falling hair, and ultimately, baldness. After Prof. Unna, of Hamburg, Germany, discovered the dandruff germ, all efforts to find a remedy failed until the great laboratory discovery was made which resulted in Newbald's hair medicine. It alone of all other hair preparations kills the dandruff germ. Without dandruff, hair grows luxuriantly. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. AFTERNOON FROCK FOR A CHILD.
Here is a dainty little model, fashioned of fine lawn, which could be very readily manufactured at home. The simple little waist is laid in fine ruffles to a shallow yoke depth the entire width of the front, the resulting lines below being gathered into a row belt just below the hips. Into this belt is also gathered the little full skirt, trimmed with a narrow lace-edged ruffle. Little double ruffles, edged with fine lace, trim the front and shoulders of the waist. Down the front at equal distances are tacked four small pink satin bows matching the sash.
